Joseph is clearly proud of his plan...

... but his hand did not draw it, and afterward, it will probably be rolled up and put under a desk.

Kevin is using the Nintendo Wii to make his own plan...

... when he is finished, he can email, print and update his plan himself.

In Spring 2011, The Intrelate Community Interest Company (iCIC) will launch an innovative new Person Centred Planning tool.

This new, free-to-use product will be available electronically, with an appealing user interface.

We have worked closely with the social care sector to develop an innovative management tool that is designed to put control in the hands of the user, literally, and promote continued use.

ePCP enables the people you help take more control in the building of their own plan. Built-in features help them monitor progress to their personal goals.

iCIC's Electronic Person Centred Planning tool is a product that helps you put control in the right hands.

The following page gives you a sneak preview of the look of the product, however, we'd love to have the opportunity to show it to you in advance of its launch and get your feedback.

To arrange a preview demonstration, either as an individual or group or to register for future updates, please contact us:
